Interesting Illustrated Lecture in the Hope Bay Hall Last Friday

(Review Correspondent.)
PENDER ISLAND, Feb. 27.—The Valentine social which was given by the Guild last Wednesday evening, having been postponed from the correct date, was thoroughly enjoyed by all present. A variety of games, stunts and contests were put on by the committee which was composed of Mrs. W. P. Johnston, Miss Ruth Menzies and Messrs. H. Auchterlome, P. Johnson and H. Howell. Refreshments concluded the affair at a very reasonable hour.

Owing to the weather, the fare well party which was to have been given by Mrs. Moore in honor of Rev. C. Price, on Monday evening, was cancelled. Instead the whist drive on Thursday night was made the occasion for a send-off for the vicar. There were a few more out than usual at the drive, and eight tables were made up. A special prize of a pair of hand-knitted socks was kindly donated by Mrs. Sid. Church, and won by Mr. E. Hooson. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Stiglitz took first prizes, the former tying with Mr. Geo. Grimmer. The boobies were presented to Miss Betty Fraser and Mrs. Jack Clague. After the usual refreshments, parlor games were played for a while, and Mr. Price bade farewell to his friends.

The illustrated lecture which was given in the Hope Bay hall on Friday evening by Messrs. Morton and Fairley was very interesting and instructive, and everyone was very much pleased with the novel method of entertainment, especially when it was given free. There was a splendid attendance, though the majority were poultry breeders. The moving picture machine was operated by a generator attached to a Ford car and worked very well indeed. Refreshments were served by the ladies and then Mr. Morton delighted the audience with a humorous monologue on the life of a rather shiftless farmer. He was heartily cheered and chose as his second piece an interpretation of Lauder's "Wiggle, Waggle, Wiggle o' the Kilt." This was also cheered and was followed by the very appropriate "Oh, it's nice to get up in the mornin'—a song which hits a soft spot in many a farmer. Although the audience still wanted more, Mr. Morton explained that he would really have to quit for that was all he knew. Of course, no one believed him, but it was getting late, so the meeting was closed with the National Anthem.

The S.S. "Coaster" was in at Hope Bay for a time on Sunday, when Capt. Malcolm MacDonald and Mr. Bob MacDonald visited their mother. Miss Ruth Hoffman has returned to Victoria after spending the past two months with her aunt, Mrs. J. A. Brackett.

FLYING LINE NOT TO BLAME

The Flying Line stage driven by Mr. W. Harrison had a somewhat serious collision on the morning of Thursday, Feb. 22, with a car driven by Nell Little, son of Mr. Clifford Little, East Saanich, who was on his way to Victoria. No one was seriously hurt, but both cars are badly damaged.

The Flying stage, which left Victoria at eight in the morning, was descending Lion's Hill, close to Royal Oak, when the driver saw two cars coming down the hill, one in the act of passing the other.

On seeing the Flying Line approaching, the other car tried to stop, driving from one side of the road to safety, but found it impossible to avoid collision, as Mr. Little's car was turned right across the road in front of him, and it was impossible to avoid it.

During the evening Mr. Heal, on behalf of a number of her Sidney friends, presented Mrs. Woodward with a very handsome Pyrex casserole, much to the surprise and delight of Mrs. Woodward, who gratefully acknowledged the gift.

About 10.30 p.m. a delightful supper was served and was very much enjoyed by all. The evening was spent in games, dancing and cards.

DOING GOOD WORK

Reports read at the annual meeting of the B. C. Division, Canadian Red Cross, show that an enormous amount of work has been done by the society during the past year.

In the Red Cross workshops at Vancouver and Victoria, fifty or sixty men are regularly employed. All of them are ex-soldiers whose war disabilities prevent their earning a living in the open labor market, and for this reason a monthly deficit in the working of the shops has been unavoidable. However, an agreement recently entered into with the Department of S. S. R. provides for payment by the government of 85 per cent of the capital expenditure and 75 per cent of the monthly operating deficit up to $25 a man. This, by relieving the society of a heavy financial burden, will allow of considerable extension of the Red Cross shops.

Other work on behalf of ex-service men includes regular visits to all undergoing institutional treatment in various parts of the province, and providing them with clothing and other comforts. In connection with this branch of the society's activities, the following sums have been expended:

Vancouver	$ 551.00
Victoria	$ 99.90
Tranquille	2,522.61
Essondale	1,699.84
New Westminster	$ 85.13

Total

The various branches of the Red Cross have looked after needy returned men and their families, particularly in cases of sickness, and many have been supplied with milk, food, clothing and other necessities. Others have been granted small loans, which have been repaid by monthly instalments.

Fire refugees at Merville and Lang Bay were actively assisted by the society, clothing and other necessities being provided, as well as money, on their behalf. Moreover, the government requested the Red Cross to administer its fund of $1,500 on behalf of Lang Bay victims. By arrangement, the Dominion military authorities will, in future, provide the Red Cross with field kitchens, tents and other military stores in cases of disaster.

The Red Cross public health nursing service was established in several districts, and accomplished much valuable work. Red Cross nurses made over 4,000 bedside visits, 2,076 instructive visits, 1,471 child welfare visits, and 4,000 inspections of school children. For various reasons, there will be no immediate extension of this service, the efforts of the nursing department being centred on home nursing instruction. A large number of women have already taken the course, which has proved highly popular.

Considerable progress has been made in connection with the organization of Junior Red Cross in this province, and many branches have been formed. The junior branches, officered by children, not only train the child in the duties and responsibilities of citizenship, but foster and encourage the altruistic spirit which is latent in all children. All fees and other monies collected by the Juniors are devoted to helping poorer children obtain needed surgical and other treatment, with which their parents are unable to provide them.

The coming year should see a great increase in the activities of the provincial Red Cross, and even greater progress than formerly toward the attainment of the society's peace-time aims; the promotion of health, the prevention of disease, and the mitigation of suffering throughout the world.

A WESTERN SCARECROW

A member of the Alberta Legislature intends, it is reported, to introduce a resolution proposing the secession of Western Canada from the rest of the Dominion. The object of such secession talk as one occasionally hears rumors of, is, of course, well known. No one has any serious thought of the west withdrawing from the Dominion, but the idea of a few misguided people is to make a wild gesture, create the pretence that there is a secession movement in the West and scare the East into being more respectful to the demands from Western Canada. That this is the situation is perfectly well known here, and it is doubtless equally well known in the East. But the news of these alleged secessionist movements will be carried abroad to Great Britain, the United States and elsewhere, and will add to the false impressions already too abundantly held regarding Western Canada.

The Calgary Herald, in speaking of the intentions of the Alberta M.L.A. above referred to, says: "Premier Greenfield, who is without question as jealous as anyone else of Alberta's reputation, will probably do his best to head off the alleged plan to debate separation of the West from Eastern Canada." The suggestion contained in such a resolution should not be countenanced for one moment by sensible people in any part of Western Canada. It is time to end once and for all the irresponsible talk about secession, which not only can do no possible good, but will confirm the impression of some ill-informed people in the East that the prairies are inhabited by extremists and fanatics.

The West has a number of very important demands to make upon the Dominion as a whole. In each instance it will rest its case on the justice of the demand, it will expect a fair hearing from the East and that each matter will be determined on its merits. If it is necessary for the West to fight for its rights it will assuredly do so with recognized and constitutional means, and it has shown in the past that it can put up a determined and effective fight when the occasion demands it.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

That most communities need: Fewer pessimists and a greater number of citizens with faith in its future.

That our country needs more tractors and less draft-horses.

That despite looks and words of the confirmed pessimist, that our country is going to the dogs, all outward and visible signs point to an opposite direction. You don't have to go outside your city to see the evidences of business revival.

That times are getting better and your community is going strong.

That the first thing many citizens think when asked to do something for their community, is: "What do I get out of it?" They should think, "What can I do for my community?" Selfishness should not be thought of in civic work.

That mail order houses never prosper in a city where the local merchants advertise consistently, because the mail order men know they cannot compete with a local store if the merchant understands his business.

That the public needs educating to a knowledge that they can buy at home as cheaply as buying away from home.

That they can actually see what they are buying before they pay for it, and they do not have to wait days and even weeks, for the delivery of articles they buy. (By E. R. Waite, Secretary Board of Commerce, Shawnee, Okla.)

Important Meeting of Salt Spring Island Co-operative Creamery Patrons

(Best Coast Correspondent)
FULFORD HARBOR, Feb. 24.—Mr. and Mrs. E. Brenton have left for Anacortes.

Miss Dorothy Akerman was home for a few hours last Saturday. Her duties at the St. Joseph's hospital allow her but short time for leisure. A well attended auction sale was held on Thursday when Mrs. Edwards disposed of her effects.

A meeting of the Salt Spring Island Co-operative Creamery patrons of South Salt Spring was held in the hall here tonight. Mr. Jeffery Scott, chairman of the directors and Mr. Speed-ono of the directors were present to give the attitude of the creamery of the patrons in other sections. After much discussion the meeting went on record as being in favor of the creamery paying one price to all patrons and doing the hauling and, until such arrangement could be made, paying south end patrons the full price instead of deducting one half cent per lb. of butter fat for hauling as at present.

From the first of next month the South Salt Spring Post Office will be housed in the White House Valley store, where Mr. C. Urquhart has been fitting up an office to accommodate it.

There is a petition being circulated asking for rural delivery through the Burgoyne Valley.

"I Was Terribly Weak After Baby Was Born"

Mrs. H. McClure, Norwood, Ont., writes:

"After my baby was born, I was terribly weak and run down, with pains across my back. I had heard so much of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food that I decided to try it. Three boxes proved enough to make me quite strong and well again. I also used Dr. Chase's Ointment for a rash which broke out on the baby, and the rash disappeared completely in a short time."

STEPHEN LEACOCK

Can a man be a successful university professor and universal humorist at the same time? It would appear so in the case of Stephen Butler Leacock, professional director of the Department of Political Economy in McGill University, Montreal, and the acknowledged present day leader of Canadian humorists. His career has thus far been chiefly scholastic, as teacher and professor in Canadian and American Colleges and Universities and receiving from them in turn a dazzling array of degrees. His first literary productions were largely in the line of his professional work, such as the "Elements of Political Science," and in the realm of biography on "Baldwin and Lafontaine." In 1907 Professor Leacock made his first appearance as a humorist in his "Literary Lapses" and later, in "Sunshine Sketches of a Little Town." Since then he has produced a "funny book" once a year, and to use up any spare time, lecture tours are undertaken and magazine articles written in amazing quantities, as a result, the political economist is submerged, in the mind of the public, at least. In the Canadian humorist whose chief asset is a kindly satire that leaves no sting. English-born, this Mark Twain-McGill professor is still English—and Canadian, and pokes fun at both impartially. Will he suffer the fate of other "funny men" in ultimately being refused recognition as a learned university don?

LORD DURHAM

Lord Durham was the emissary sent out by the British government to report upon the troubles in Upper and Lower Canada in 1837-8. After his return he said "the Canadians will one day do justice to my memory" and this has come true, and the long delayed justice is being meted out to his name. His famous report accomplished three great results: It paved the way to the union of the provinces in 1841; to the fusion of antagonistic races—French and English—and to the establishment of responsible governments with the union of Upper and Lower Canada, in 1841, based upon responsible government, Canada entered upon a new and better era, which in a quarter of a century developed into the Confederation era, and which has since further developed to a remarkable degree. His report went fully into all the most important questions, internal and external, which then agitated the British North American Provinces. Lord Durham pointed out the dangers arising from the interference of a Colonial Department in matters of local government and insisted upon the capacity of the colonists for self government, and these conclusions, written into his report, have been proved to be true and wise, and which were preliminary and essential to the successful inauguration of Confederation.

SAYINGS OF THE WISE

A house begins with a brick, a quarrel with a word.

The idle man kills time. Time kills the idle man.

If none took and none gave offence, good-will would reign.

Those who bear ill-will usually get their load increased.

When a man tries to get something for nothing, he succeeds in acquiring experience.

A man who showst himself too well satisfied with himself, is seldom pleased with others, and they, in return, are little disposed to like him.

Though a taste of pleasure may quicken the relish of life, an unrestrained indulgence leads to inevitable destruction.

Those who quit their proper character to assume what does not belong to them are for the greater part ignorant of both the character they leave and of the character they assume.

May not taste be compared to that exquisite sense of the bee which instantly discovers and extracts the quint-essence of every flower, and disregards all the rest of it?

A little library growing larger every year is an honorable part of a man's history. It is a man's duty to have books. A library is not a luxury, but one of the necessities of life.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS

How you use today determines how tomorrow will use you.

The man who blows his own trumpet is usually out of tune.

Recognize your own weakness, but don't meditate upon them all the time.

The doorstep to the temple of wisdom is a knowledge of our own ignorance.

Many a man thinks he is a shining light when he is only a flash in the pan.

The man who really "delivers the goods" does not have to knock at back doors.

Cultivate personality. Personality is to a man what perfume is to a flower.

Be warned against nursing revengeful thoughts; they are apt to develop sharp stings.

When anything comes easy there is something to be wary of, for good things come hard.

Winds of adversity cause weak vessels to flounder, but merely speed staunch vessels on their way.

A NEW MOVEMENT STARTED

According to a despatch from Toronto a definite and powerful unofficial movement has been quietly stated throughout the Americas for the eventual incorporation of Canada in the official pan-American union of American nations, said John Barrett, former United States ambassador to Argentina, in an address given in Toronto recently before the Canadian club.

Although this project is not specifically included in the programme of the fifth international pan-American conference to be held at Santiago, Chile, on March 26, Mr. Barrett said there are serious indications that it will come up in some "appropriate way."

There is only one thing worth doing in every department of life.

The Review Job Printing Dept.

We are in a position to handle job work in a satisfactory manner, and will appreciate any orders received. The Review plant is well equipped in every way, being the largest and most up-to-date of any found in a town the size of Sidney. We have added considerable equipment to the Review plant during the past year or so in order to be in a position to successfully handle anything that may be placed in our hands in the commercial job printing line. The Review has had splendid support in this direction, and this fact is very much appreciated. If at any time our customers are not satisfied we hope they will tell us so, and we will endeavor to make it right. We go on the principal that only the very best work is wanted by our many customers, and we endeavor to give them what they want. To those who have printing to be done, we ask them to give us a chance to do it. We feel sure that our prices will be found reasonable, consistent with good workmanship.

VALEBICATORY

With this issue of The Review, new names appear at the head of this column, we having disposed of our interest in the plant and equipment to Mr. Walter Wakefield and his son, Mr. W. J. Wakefield, of Winnipeg, Man.

If any Review reader imagines that this change is the source of gratification on our part they are sadly mistaken. This change is made because it is in the best interests of The Review, and consequently in the best interests of the district in which it is published and circulated extensively.

The Review, when taken over by us about three and a half years ago, was not the class of newspaper to which this town and district was entitled, and it has been our endeavor to make it a credit to all concerned. We know it is deficient in many ways, even at this time, and thus the reason for the change. Now that the paper is well established and has earned the confidence of the public, the work has become too great for us, and to continue publishing The Review under former conditions would mean that the paper would not progress in the same proportion as in the past three and a half years.

We have made many friends in Sidney and district. We are sure we have no enemies. There may be some who did not agree with us in matters relative to our community life, but that is as it should be, because we would never advance if all thought alike.

We wish to extend our sincere thanks and give expression to our appreciation for the liberal patronage we have received from all friends and patrons since we have had charge of the destinies of The Review. We will be able, no matter where we may finally locate, to look back with considerable pleasure to the time we were with you.

To our numerous excellent correspondents throughout the district we extend hearty thanks as we are not unmindful of the great help they have been to us in making The Review what it is today, one of the best weekly newspapers published in Canada.

Mr. Walter Wakefield and his son, Mr. W. J. Wakefield, are both practical printers and bring to The Review long experience in the publishing business, and it will be their endeavor to make The Review a bigger and better paper as time goes on.

Mrs. Wakefield and daughter will come to Sidney in a few weeks' time, they remaining in Winnipeg until about May 1.

We hope and trust that the same loyal support will be given to the new management, and that the correspondents will continue to contribute their weekly bulletins as in the past.

We take advantage of this opportunity to extend to you and all our very best wishes for their future happiness and prosperity.

TO IMPORT LIVE STOCK

Five shire horses as well as a number of sheep and swine, and, perhaps, a few cattle, are to be imported for breeding purposes into Canada from Great Britain by the Dominion Department of Agriculture this year. The horses are being donated to the government by the Shire Horse Society of Great Britain. The director of Experimental Farms and the Dominion Animal Husbandman have sailed for England to assist in making the selections of the horses at the London horse show held recently. It is estimated that these horses will form the nucleus of a large stud of shires to be maintained at one of the western Experimental Stations. The horses to be imported will include Yorkshire, Tamworth and Berkshire breeds of bacon type.

When occasion will be taken by Mr. Archibald, of the Experimental Farms, to make an investigation of the bacon industry in that country.

DUCT A HOTBED.

suitable kind. Whereas the greenhouse has to depend on steam heating for the necessary warmth, the heat for a hotbed is secured from that arising from fresh manure. The hotbed may be placed on top of the ground or in an excavation. Whichever plan is decided upon, the site chosen should drain so as not to permit water to stand. If the below-ground plan is adopted, the soil should be taken out to a depth of about 18 inches and for about three feet wider than the frame, so that there may be room for banking up outside the frame. The banking is very important as it conserves the heat. Horse manure is the best. It should be turned once or twice, and should be quite hot and ready for use in five or six days.

To support the glass sash, a simple frame should be made of two-inch planks. It should be so constructed that it may be raised if the plants get too close to the glass. To provide for the shedding of rain, the back of the frame should be six inches higher than the front.

When building the bed, the manure should be shaken so that the long and short particles are well mixed. Trap well as each layer is added, until a depth of two to two and a half feet is secured. The frame is then put in position and five or six inches more manure is shaken in. Good garden soil to the depth of six inches should now be placed over the manure, and the sash put on. In five or six days the hotbed will be ready for the seed. A thermometer should be used and the temperature of the soil should not exceed 80 degrees. The seeding should be done in rows about four inches apart, as it would in the open ground later in the season.

More complete instructions for handling the cold frame and the plants themselves are contained in Exhibition Circular No. 16, obtainable from the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Rude Rural Rhymes

FORTY PLUS

When I was twenty-two or three, I thought the world was made for me; it was my oyster and my clam, my pie, my cabbage and my ham which I could stow at my pleasure and then, full-fed, digest at leisure. For me the sun arose at dawn; he brought the heat and daylight on and left the moon when he was gone. For me bloomed all the pretty flowers in all the woods and yards and bowers; for me bloomed all the pretty girls with rosy cheeks and fetching curls. On every side of every street were restaurants where I could eat. In every church were cushioned pews where I might take a restful snooze. Blue were the skies that bended o'er me when all my future was before me. But my importance has declined since half my future is behind. The sun warms all, both bond and free, lights others' folks as well as me; the pretty girls that charmed me then became the brides of other men. Of many hopes has life bereft me, my feet are flat my hair has left me; yet still the world is no less pleasant for being shared by prince and peasant. When all mankind have had their share, there's golden sunshine still to spare and unclaimed flowers bloom everywhere. Though youthful loves had numbered fifty, though all were sweet and all were nifty, with Hannah's gentle hand in mine, I'd scorn the other forty-nine. What should I do with ten or twenty, why ask for more when one is plenty?

—BOB ADAMS.

THE WORK TO THE LIVING

It isn't enough to say in our hearts that we like a man for his ways.

It isn't enough that we fill our minds with peans of silent praise.

Nor is it enough that we honor man, as our confidence upward turns.

It's going right up to the man himself and telling him so, that counts.

If a man does a work you really admire, don't let kind word unsaid.

In fear that to do so might make him vain, and cause him to "lose his head";

But reach out your hand and tell him "Well done," and see how his gratitude swells.

It isn't the flowers we strew on the grave—it's the work to the living that tells.

DISCOVERY OF HIGH PRODUCING WHEAT

Three-year wheat tests carried on by the department of field husbandry at the University of Alberta have evidently resulted in the discovery of a high producer. For some time it has been known that experiments were being conducted by the department, of which Prof. G. H. Cutler is the head, in co-operation with members of the Alberta Cross Improvement association.

The tests made show that the new strain can even exceed the Marquis yield by as much as nine bushels per acre. It is quite evidently a superior variety to Marquis, judging by the yield reported for the last three years.

Professor Cutler states that the test in 1920 gave 49 bushels to the acre for Marquis and 59 for Marquis III, which is the new variety. In 1921 the yield was 41 and 50 bushels, respectively, while in 1922 it was 26 and 35, showing that in each year the new strain far exceeded the yield of the well known Marquis wheat.

Tests of the new variety were made in field plots in areas of the province of Alberta, including Killam, Sedgewick, High River and Medicine Hat. For that reason results were especially gratifying.

MEETING OF THE COUNCIL

tion in B.C., and large contributions to the Federal Treasury, and to the automobile industry of the East, of the road users of B.C. that the Sidney Board of Trade is of the opinion that British Columbia should receive at least one ninth of any sum provided for Federal Aid.

And that the president and secretary be authorized to forward a copy of this resolution to our respective Federal members, asking them to support such a measure.

The following communication was received from Hon. J. H. King, Dominion Minister of Public Works:

Ottawa, Feb. 12, 1923

Mr. W. H. Dawes,
Secretary, Board of Trade,
Sidney, B. C.

Dear Sir:

With further reference to your letter of Dec. 21, last, in regard to the wharf at Sidney, B.C., I beg to advise you that this matter has been looked into by the Engineering branch, and it is recommended that the driving of protection piling along the easterly side of the wharf approach from low water line to the inner side of the wharf head be undertaken to protect this wharf.

The estimated cost of this work is $3,000, and I have given instructions that an item, covering same be noted for the consideration of Council in connection with the supplementary estimates for the next fiscal year 1923-24.

Yours sincerely,
J. H. King.

The council went on record as being opposed to the proposed closing of a road leading to Shoal Harbour, and a resolution to this effect has been forwarded to the government officials in Victoria. A petition protesting against the closing of the road, signed by a number of taxpayers, has also been sent to the government officials in the Capital city.

MEETING OF SOCIAL CLUB

Critchley, Mr. MacAulay, Mr. Hambley; consolation, Mrs. Harrison, Mrs. MacAulay, Mr. Velch, Mr. Coleman. There were 28 present and a most enjoyable evening was spent. Refreshments were served after the games.

The club intends to hold a 500 tournament in the Berquist Hall, on Thursday, March 15, and a "Farmer's" dance on Wednesday, April 4, in the Berquist Hall.

WORTH REMEMBERING

HARDENED GLUE

If a little vinegar is added to the glue which has hardened and allowed to stand for a few days it will be rendered fit for use.

GIVE THEM SUNSHINE

Turn the plants that need sunshine daily, so they do not develop only on one side.

TO FRESHEN BREAD

Dampen the stale rolls of muffins and heat in the oven. They will be like newly baked.

TO CLEAN FURNITURE

A splendid cleanser for furniture consists of one tablespoon of turpentine and three of linseed oil to one quart of boiling water.

CLEAN LIDS

So often the lid of the saucepan is forgotten and is not washed. And frequently the flavor of one dish will cling to the unwashed lid and spoil a second dish which is prepared in the same pan.

STUFFING THE TURKEY

A half-pound of sausage meat, cooked and cut into small pieces will lend flavor to the turkey filling.

A VEGETABLE GUIDE

A good rule for vegetables is to cover those that grow underground and cook uncovered those that grow above the ground.

IN THE MANICURE BOX

When your orange stick becomes blunt, do not discard it as useless. Run it through the pencil sharpener and it will be as good as new.

CUSTARD PIES

The under crust of an egg custard pie will always be crisp if, when making the custard, the milk is heated to a boiling point before mixing with the eggs.

KITCHEN WISDOM

Clean plate glass with alcohol.
Wet ashes will clean steel knives.
Serve but one starchy vegetable at a meal.
Rubbing with a piece of lemon will remove grease from a kitchen stove.
Wax paper wrappings are nice for the hot iron instead of using beeswax. Save them.

WARMED-UP ROAST

To warm up a roast so that the meat will not become hard or dry, wrap it in thickly greased paper and keep covered in the oven.

HASTY SEASONING

A large salt shaker containing about one-quarter the amount of pepper as salt is a big help in the kitchen when a rapid seasoning is required as the meal is being prepared.

HOME DYEING

White curtains may be made ecru by dipping them in coffee, the stronger the coffee the darker the curtain. This is sometimes most welcome if the curtains have become very sun-burned and are otherwise good.

FOR THE WORRIED MOTHER

Whose physician has ordered her children to drink cocoa or milk and who absolutely refuse to accept the verdict, buy some soda water straws and give them the milk or cocoa in a tall glass with a straw through which to drink it. Just see if they refuse.

A DELICIOUS CANAPE

An appetizing start for the more or less formal dinner is a canape consisting of a round slice of toast upon which is a slice of tomato. The tomato is spread with a paste of sardines crushed in mayonnaise and on top of this is sprinkled grated hard-boiled egg with a dab of mayonnaise. Garnish with a ring of green pepper.

WHEN FRYING FISH

The secret of frying fish crisp and brown without either egg or bread crumbs is to dry it well, dredge both sides with plenty of flour and plunge it into boiling fat. Be sure the fat is boiling and have plenty of it, as upon that depends the crispness and brownness of the fish.

WORN CARPETS

Darn the worn stair carpet with a rug wool, being careful to match the color perfectly. It will greatly reduce the shabby appearance.

PLAYING IT ON THE TENDERFOOT

A new arrival at a western ranch was persuaded to mount a bucking horse. He was scarcely on the animal's back before he was off again—over the horse's head. "What's the matter?" asked the old timer who picked him up.

"Why, she bucked," said the tenderfoot.
"Bucked?" returned the other, "bucked? Go on! She only coughed."

ADVERTISING PAYS

The merchant who does not advertise is as far behind the times as the old-time stage coach. He plods along in the same old way, year after year, while the more progressive merchant places his wares before the public and increases his business year by year. Persistent advertising has made millions for many progressive merchants, who recognized the value of advertising from the first day they commenced business. The Review goes into almost every home in the district and is the proper medium for reaching the people.

AT THE AUDITORIUM

"THE FOUR HORSEMEN"

"The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse" will be shown tomorrow and Saturday night at the Auditorium Theatre. This is the Rex Ingram production that cost Metro $1,000,000 to make and that New Yorkers paid $10 a seat to see when it opened its record-breaking run in the metropolis. The artistic results are priceless. Indications of the screen's power have been given in memorable productions of other years, but not until "The Four Horsemen" has there been a photo-drama that has completely filled the promise of epical achievement.

It is in this sense of recording mighty events that the screen's superiority over the stage was recognized by critics after the first showing of "The Four Horsemen." Some of them harked back to the days of Shakespeare and the Elizabethan revival for a parallel in the theatre to the Rex Ingram production. "They recognized the grandeur of the Great War had here been visualized as a lasting memorial."

Readers of the novel by the sensational Spaniard, Vicente Blasco Ibanez, from which the photo-drama was adapted, have reported surprised delight at the fidelity with which the scenarios, June Mathis, has followed the story, a story that has been more widely read throughout the world than any other of modern times. Its effect is heightened in the picture, a supreme expression of the cinematographic art.

The artist to whom most credit has been awarded for this achievement is the director, Rex Ingram. Himself a sculptor before he entered the motion picture field, he has brought to the screen a sense of composition and from that is infallible in getting the right result down to the smallest detail. And then there are the big settings—the broad sweep of the Argentine plains with their enormous herds of cattle, the Buenos Ayres dance hall with its swirl of smoke and glamorous vice, the whirling gaiety of the Parisian tango palace, the fevered rush of the mobilization scenes at the outbreak of the war, the cluttered retreat of the refugees, the seemingly endless masses of German troops pouring toward Paris, the bombardment and destruction of a village and a chateau on the Marne, the terrific horror and fascination of an infantry attack from the trenches into No Man's Land. And through it all is the uncanny vision of St. John, picturing the Four Horsemen—Conquest, War, Famine and Death—a vision that Mr. Ingram has portrayed in an atmosphere of unearthly imagination.

The actors—and there are fifty principals and 2,500 extras engaged in the production—have been selected with an astonishing intuition for the ideal types. The highest honors are carried off by Rudolph Valentino, a young Italian who won fame as an exhibition dancer before starting his screen career. He appears as Julio Desnoyers, the spoiled grandson of old Madariaga, the fabulously wealthy Argentine ranch owner.

Alice Terry, one of the most delicate beautiful women on the screen, is seen as Marguerite, the love-sick wife. Although only a few years out of high school, she plays with a mature definiteness—an exquisite visualization of a chic Parisienne.

The marvellously accurate settings were constructed under the direction of Amos Myers and Joseph Calder and the brilliant photography was done by John Seitz.

BOOST THE PICTURES

To the Editor:

Mr. Editor, that Manager of the Auditorium has secured the "Four Horsemen" for this week's "silent drama."

I will be grateful if you will grant me a little of your space in order to help draw the attention of those, who might, and do not patronize the excellent and always clean films shown.

I am writing for purely selfish reasons for I realize that the management cannot give us the best without adequate support and from my observations since Mr. Habeth has been in charge I am convinced that he will give us as good a quantity of films as our patronage deserves.

If we want to see good pictures it is up to us to help and one way to do so is to invite our friends to attend and even if some of us have seen the "Four Horsemen" that is no reason why we should not see it again. Surely a good picture is worth seeing many times and by showing our appreciation in the only manner really helpful we will hasten the day when this theatre will be closed as a "first night" one.

All that is lacking is sufficient patronage. Let's do a little boosting.

Yours faithfully,

J. J. White.

Mr. Harrison's car struck the other right in the centre. Mr. Little had one hand and one arm slightly injured only. Mr. Harrison telephoned from the nearest phone and Constable Rankin was on the scene in a few minutes, followed by Mrs. Little, who was notified of the occurrence.
